When you learn you gain knowledge.

When you practice you attain skill.

Steven KH Aung

Dear Colleagues;

We are very fortunate that Dr. Aung will again give his time and teachings by presenting talks for the Saturday evening lectures.

This year, we return to more fundamental and practical topics that will help with your practice. Please join us in person or receive the transmission online.

We have been able to webcast the lectures live the last couple of years for out of town members. We will continue to do so the best we can (dependent on technology and my availability). Last year, we also started to record the lectures for members who cannot attend live. We will continue to record this year. You will need to register to receive the webcast and/or receive the recording.

I hope to see you at the lectures!

Paul Leung, President,
Dr. Aung's Club
